

RED-N Managed SecurityWeekly Update

Week ending July 29, 2022

Headline NEWS

- o Qakbot Resurfaces With New Playbook
- o Beware New Windows Vulnerability With Remote Search Window Access
- o Critical Filewave MDM Vulnerabilities Allow Attackers Full Mobile Device Control
- o Critical security vulnerability in Grails could lead to remote code execution
- Update Google Chrome now! New version includes 11 important security patches
- LibreOffice Releases Software Update to Patch 3 New Vulnerabilities
- o Critical Samba bug could let anyone become Domain Admin patch now!
- Serious OAuth vulnerability In Grafana Could Allow Account Takeover
- o US govt warns Americans of escalating "Robotext" SMS phishing attacks

Other News Events of Note

- o Hackers scan for vulnerabilities within 15 minutes of disclosure and other insights from over 600 IR cases
- Hackers exploited PrestaShop zero-day to breach online stores
- o CosmicStrand: the discovery of a sophisticated UEFI firmware rootkit
- o Computer glitches harmed 'nearly 150' patients after Oracle Cerner system go-live
- Source code for Rust-based info-stealer released on hacker forums
- o Raccoon Stealer v2 Part 1: The return of the dead information stealer
- o BlackCat attacks SRM Technologies then taunts victim on LinkedIn
- o iCloud Passwords for Windows now supports 2FA code generator
- o Volusion e-commerce platform data breach $4.3M class action settlement
- VR Malware Lets Hackers Into Your Headset
- o Amadey Bot Being Distributed Through SmokeLoader
- o Discord, Telegram Services Hijacked to Launch Array of Cyberattacks
- o LockBit Ransomware Group Augments Its Latest Variant, LockBit 3.0, With BlackMatter Capabilities
- o Google Chrome is blocking all downloads from Portable Apps says they are "dangerous"
- o Larry Ellison (Oracle) and Satya Nadella (Microsoft) Create the Multi-Cloud Future
- o Microsoft: Malicious IIS extensions quietly open persistent backdoors into servers
- LinkedIn phishing target employees managing Facebook Ad Accounts
- o AMD 22.7.1 driver has major OpenGL optimizations and Windows 11 22H2 support
- o Microsoft: Windows, Adobe zero-days used to deploy KNOTWEED's Subzero malware
- o Risk-Based Approach to Vulnerability Patching Vulnerability Management 10x faster
- Kansas MSP NetStandard shut down cloud services to fend off cyberattack
- o Apple network traffic takes mysterious detour through Russia for 12 hours
- o Gmail's Material Redesign is Officially Rolling Out to Everyone
- o EU found evidence employee phones compromised with Pegasus
- o DDoS Attack Trends in 2022: Ultrashort, Powerful, Multivector Attacks
- o New 'Robin Banks' phishing service targets banks: BofA, Citi, and Wells Fargo
- o U.S. doubles reward for tips on North Korean-backed hackers
- Phishing Attacks Skyrocket with Microsoft and Facebook as Most Abused Brands
- o Average Data Breach Costs Soar to $4.4M in 2022
- Phishing Attacks Blast Off from InterPlanetary File System
- o SharpTongue aka Kimsuky Deploys Clever Mail-Stealing Browser Extension "SHARPEXT"
- o APT-Like Phishing Threat Dynamically Mirrors Landing Pages to harvest credentials and tokens
- Breach Exposes Users of Microleaves Proxy Service
 - Proxy Service Permanently Shuts Down Operations after Breach
- Mozilla has released Firefox 103, jam-packed with new features
- o Who's Behind the Keyboard doxes cyber-criminals
- o Fewer Ransomware Victims Pay, as Median Ransom Falls in Q2 2022
- o LockBit Ransomware Sideloads Cobalt Strike Through Microsoft Defender Security Tool
- Dahua IP Camera Vulnerability Could Let Attackers Take Full Control Over Devices
- Linux malware soars to an all-time high in the first half of 2022, although Windows still leads the pack